Bring & Buy Stall structure and rules

Fill in the details of your item(s) on your sheet and we will attach a raffle ticket to each item and give you the other half. You'll need this for picking up your money and reclaiming unsold stuff.

10% will be deducted from the sale price and donated to our chosen charity.
Sheets cost £1 each to submit, no more than 2 per person.
Non-collection of money will be taken to mean that the seller wants all the money to be donated to our chosen charity.
Non-collected items will become the property of the Bring & Buy Coordinators and will be donated to a future Bring & Buy stall/set fire to/sold to passers-by for further donations to charity.
No refunds or returns on items: they are bought and sold as seen.
Goods should be in good order. In exceptional circumstances, damaged goods will be accepted. In this case, goods should be marked with what parts are damaged.

We, the Bring & Buy organisers...

- will do our best for security but hold no responsibility for lost or stolen items, everything is left at the owner's risk.
- will not pay out or allow goods to be collected unless the collector has retained their ticket, thus proving ownership.
- cannot give people advice on prices.
- have taken sellers at their word that items are in good order (unless marked) and are not held responsible if they are not.
- insist that all items must be appropriate for a family friendly event.
- may refuse any Bring & Buy item(s) they deem unfit, or if they believe the item(s) belong to a 3rd party.

We may use your details to contact you about future events. If you do not want us to do this, check the box on the form.

Optional rule

- At the discretion of the Bring & Buy stall staff, "Haggling" over the price of an item (down to a minimum price, in agreement with the Seller, as stated on the form in the "minimum" column) can take place if the agreement box on the form is clearly marked "Yes".

The Sellers...

- must know what they wish to sell for (i.e. the price) and should not ask for advice from the organisers.
- must accept that all items are left at their owner's risk, and sellers may only sell items which they own.
- will collect their cash and/or unsold items by the end of the weekend.
- collecting unsold items may not take them off the table without informing the organisers and having them checked off against the logbook.
- items and/or cash cannot be collected without the ticket(s) being retained.
- once items are checked in, the Bring & Buy staff are responsible for sales, please don't return unless you are buying other items or collecting your own. Failure to adhere to this rule may lead to the removal of your items from the Bring & Buy

Whilst all is done to prevent loss, the organisers are not responsible for any losses, thefts or damages.